Press Release

Toddler Health Now Available At Whole Foods So. California!

Los Angeles, California - July 29, 2007 - Toddler Health™ will now be available to all Southern California residents at Whole Foods.

Approved by Whole Foods Southwest Region, Toddler Health™ has taken a major step toward its mission of providing the right tools for parents eager to raise Healthy and Fit Kids™ in an age of picky eaters, food allergies and growing child obesity concerns.

This very tasty rice-based product that toddlers love is free of gluten, dairy, soy and refined sugar and is filled with record amounts of brain building Omega 3's, calcium, antioxidants and fruit and vegetable extracts that help support a child's immune system and provide a solid foundation for a healthy growing body.

Visit your local Whole Foods today to introduce your toddler to a whole new level of delicious nutrition.

For more information on Toddler Health™, please visit www.toddlerhealth.net or contact Chesney Andrea at 323-937-9990.
